Lonely Warmth

The play tells the story of an eccentric old woman (portrayed by lv Liping) who longs for the affection of her family, but disapproves of the busy life led by her son and daughter-in-law. On the other hand, she is tolerant and even sympathetic of her rebellious granddaughter, indicating her inner agitation and her own mentality of an old "child." The cast also includes Sun Haiying, Hou Yansong, and Li Ye. The revolving stage displays scenes of the living room, kitchen, garden, and garage, to ensure the consistency of the story and imply the theme of the play – the cycle of time and human life.
