Japanese version of 'Journey to the West'

Adapted from "Journey to the West," one of China's Four Great Classical Novels, this Japanese version of the play also tells the story of the monk Tang Sanzang who leads Sun Wukong, Zhu Bajie and Sha Wujing to travel to the Western Regions to obtain holy Buddhist scriptures.

Sho Ryuzanji, the artistic director of the play, is one of the three major drama masters in Japan. He has directed 250 works.

The play was written and directed by Tengai Amano who used the creative method of the absurd theater to interpret the familiar scenes in "Journey to the West," including the scenes of "Real Monkey King vs Fake Monkey King," "Three Battles with the White Bone Demon," and "Mountain of Flames."
